RIOTER SHOT DOWN IN NEW YORK CITY

Policeman, After Being Kicked and Beaten, Fires on the Gang of Bums.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—One man was killed, a policeman seriously injured and two other persons shot in an East Side riot tonight. The police of the precinct were instructed to rid the vicinity of the vicious characters. The appearance of Policeman Walter J. Miller was the signal for trouble. Miller arrested a man named Jack Klein. Miller was hit over the head with a club and fell to the ground. The prostrate policeman was kicked and beaten, but drew his pistol and, after shouting a warning, fired twice. One bullet struck Klein between the shoulders and he fell dead. The second bullet passed through the leg of Max Felderbaum and then entered the foot of Florence Smith. Following the shooting policemen came running from many quarters and reserves had to be summoned before quiet could be restored. Several arrests were made. At the hospital, where Policeman Miller was taken, it was said he has a fractured skull.

HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many From This Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but true fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect. Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, leucorrhoea, dizziness, flatulency, displacements of the womb or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the ovaries or womb, and if not heeded the trouble will make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation; and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the results are fatal. The following letter should bring hope to suffering women Miss Lucilla Adams, of the Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash., writes: "About two years ago I was a great sufferer from a severe female trouble, pains and headaches. The doctor prescribed for me and finally told me that I had a tumor on the womb and must undergo an operation if I wanted to get well. I felt that this was my death warrant, but I spent hundreds of dollars for medical help, but the tumor kept growing. Fortunately I corresponded with an aunt in the New England States, and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was said to cure tumors. I did so and immediately began to improve in health, and I was entirely cured, the tumor disappearing entirely without an operation. I wish every suffering woman would try this great preparation."

Just as surely as Miss Adams was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration. Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address, Lynn, Mass.

BIG SALE OF IRON.

Birmingham Furnaces Sell Enormous Amounts of Pig Iron. (By Associated Press.) BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Sept. 21.—The Birmingham iron market is unusually brisk this week. One company reports sales of 80,000 tons of pig iron within the past three days and other sales of about 80,000 tons since September 1. The sales of other companies will bring the total up to about 225,000 since the first of the month.

DAN PATCH BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD

Paced by Two Runners, Goes a Mile in 2:01 on a Half Mile Track.

(By Associated Press.) ALLENTOWN, PA., Sept. 21.—Dan Patch, paced by two runners, today went a mile in 2:01, beating the world's pacing record for a half mile track. Time by quarters, 30 1-2, 30, 30 and 30 1-2. An hour later Dan Patch went a mile to a road wagon in 2:05.

OLD FAMILIES UNITED

Miss Green and Lieutenant Bowers are Wedded.

CEREMONY HELD AT ANAPOLIS

Bride, Who is Descendant of Three Governors, Wears the Wedding Veil of Her Great-Great-Grandmother.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21.—Miss Eveline Clare Green, daughter of the late Richard Green, was married to Lieutenant John Treadwell Bowers, U. S. N., in Annapolis, yesterday.

The wedding took place in St. Ann's Protestant Episcopal church, and there was a large representative gathering of Annapolis and naval society. The bride, attired in a gown of white silk and wearing the wedding veil of her great-great-grandmother, carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The young people come of old Colonial stock. Miss Green is a descendant of three governors of the State of Maryland—Martin, Kent and Pratt—while Lieutenant Bowers' grandfather was the late John Treadwell, the last Colonial Governor of Connecticut.

WOMAN'S BODY IS CUT INTO PIECES

Doctor Police Have a Jack-the-Ripper Case to Solve—No Clues Found.

(By Associated Press.) BOSTON, MASS., Sept. 21.—A woman's dismembered body, wrapped in white oil cloth, was found in a green leather suit case in the water near the Winthrop Yacht Club house early tonight. The intestines had been removed. The body had evidently been dismembered by a sharp knife. The cuts were clean and no bones were broken.

HOUNDED BY POLICE.

Philadelphia's Reform Movement Drives Man to Suicide.

(By Associated Press.) PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 21.—George Finkelstein, a former lodging house keeper of this city, tried to end his life today in a horrible manner. Finkelstein had been accused by the police of permitting illegal voters to register from his house and had been driven out of business. He brooded over his misfortune. He was found in his room in a lodging house with his throat and wrists cut and his head lying in a fire which he had made of a pile of newspapers.

WILD MEN OF AUSTRALIA.

An Aboriginal Dwelling and a Sweet but Unattractive Dish.

An explorer in the wilds of northern Australia writes: "While at work one day Mr. Hingston found an aboriginal dwelling which revealed evidences of architectural design seldom displayed by Australian aborigines. It was evidently a main camping depot, oval in shape, about sixteen feet long and fourteen feet high. It was built of layers of straw intermixed with a good stiff clay. Small openings as windows were numerous all round the sides. The door was the only drawback. This was a mere burrow hole about one foot from the ground, and one was compelled to crawl in on all fours to enter this primitive type of mansion. When we cleared the river we anchored at Maria Island. Seeing some of the blacks on the beach we went to interview them. They were apparently frightened, however, and abandoned the canoes on which they were at work and cleared into the bush. Care was taken not to interfere with their possessions, and pipes and tobacco were left where the natives could find them. Rambling about we came upon an open space of considerable extent marked out in large squares with stone, on which were planted, three to five feet high, five or six hollow posts, which were stuffed full of human bones. All the posts were painted red. We doubtless had stumbled upon a sacred spot. There were some nice skulls, but not a thing was interfered with. "A few miles up the river we struck a big camp of natives, but they cleared into the bush as soon as they caught sight of us. We waited some time at the camp, and the blacks returned, satisfied that we did not intend mischief. The usual presents of tobacco and pipes were given, and they were received with the greatest satisfaction. Indeed, we became perfect friends for the time being. To seal the friendship, or perchance, it may have been the native fashion of 'looking toward you,' a great buck came to me with a wooden vessel shaped like a canoe in his hand and full of honey. I noticed on the top a ball of grass. The chap held the honey to me, but I shook my head, so he took the ball of grass, whisked it about in the strap and popped it into his mouth. After sucking it dry he put it back into the honey, and when nicely soaked offered it to me again. He evidently wished me to follow his example, but I passed. There was a fine iguana on the fire, just nicely cooked. This I did try, and it was really good—just like chicken."

BOARD MUST CONCUR.

Judge Blackstone Enters an Order in the Wharf Case of Massey Bros.

After hearing the complaints of those opposed to the project Judge Blackstone yesterday entered an order giving the Messrs. Massey Brothers the authority to erect a wharf in Hampton Creek. The order, however, is given with the understanding that the board of supervisors must first concur in the action of the court. Hon. S. Gordon Cumming, who represented the complaints, asked for a stay of order, so that the case may be taken to the Virginia Court of Appeals. Mr. Henry Lane Schmelz, president of the Bank of Hampton, and the Newport News and Old Point Railway and Electric Company, were made party defendants to the action. It was contended that Judge Blackstone has no jurisdiction in the premises, but the court thought that he had the right to recommend the granting of the request to the board of supervisors, which will meet next Wednesday. Judge Sidney J. Dudley and Commonwealth's Attorney Burdette A. Lewis represented Massey Brothers.

Many Teachers are Now Returning From Their Summer Vacation.

Rev. Thomas Jesse Jones, associate chaplain, has returned from his vacation. Mr. F. K. Rogers and family have returned from their vacation. Miss C. M. Folsom and Miss Ulsaner have returned from their vacations. Miss Fuller started Saturday night for the North to spend several weeks. Miss Goodrich has gone North to visit her sister in New York. Mr. and Mrs. William H. Scoville are receiving congratulations over the advent of a son. Most of the officers and teachers will be back the latter part of this week or the first of next, including those who have been "doing" Europe. Among those who will be late in returning is Dr. Waldron, resident physician, who is recovering from a successful operation for appendicitis in a Philadelphia hospital. Mr. Stern in Town. Mr. S. Stern, a Baltimore cigar drummer, and former president of the Mohawk Club, arrived in Hampton yesterday on a business trip of several days. Generally a man has some news to break to his wife about a hunting trip he is planning when he will go to church with her without fighting about it.—New York Press.
